A NOTE FROM BOB

Spring 2019 is here! With it comes “spring fever,” a condition we all suffer from. Symptoms may include: optimism, excitement, anticipation, invigoration and renewal.

As our team has traveled the country the past few weeks, we have discovered that spring fever seems to be present everywhere. Optimism about the cattle markets is the topic of conversation. The moisture from the fall and winter seasons has generated anticipation for a great spring. All of which brings us to our home away from home – the Abilene Livestock Auction – where this season of hope and new opportunities energizes us as we come fully loaded with our latest Angus Strong® genetics.

We want to thank you for taking a few moments to consider the many options we have provided for your spring 2019 breeding program. From front to back, the Sale features performance Angus bulls that are ready to work, heavy-muscled and loaded with thickness and carcass merit. The offering includes an outstanding set of calving-ease yearling bulls, as well as a large group of older bulls. These bulls are designed for producers who sell calves on quality grade and pounds with a goal of enhanced profitability.

We have seen that the proven Angus genetics of 44 Farms consistently produce feeder cattle that top the market and help our customers succeed, while providing the ultimate consumer with the finest and most delicious eating experience. These calves give producers the best market opportunities and the lowest risk. That is why it is so important for producers to invest in quality Angus genetics. It really makes a difference when it comes time to market those calves.

We are excited to see that many of the top-selling feeder cattle in the country are products of the 44 Farms Angus Strong® genetics program. Likewise, through our own branded programs, we are accumulating vast volumes of performance and harvest data. We know that 44 Farms genetics work and producers are receiving the highest end-product premiums in the market today.

So, whether you are checking us out for the first time, or you are a returning customer, please know how grateful we are for you. We never take this awesome privilege of working with you for granted. We look forward to seeing you and visiting with you in Abilene on March 16th.

PSALM 136:1

110 YEARS STRONG

2019 marks the 110th anniversary of 44 Farms. After acquiring his first acreage of the “rich farmland of the Little River bottom” in 1896, Sherwood W. McClaren introduced his “44” brand in 1909. Over a century has passed – crops of all varieties have been produced, cattle have grazed the native and improved grasses, and 44 Farms has contributed to the story and amazing achievements of American agriculture.

We look back on the memories that began with the vision, faith, and back-breaking work of Sherwood, his wife Josie, and the family that followed – all who believed that there will always be a place in the world for those who love the land that God created, embrace the hard work, and grasp the vision and cause to help feed a hungry world.

True and meaningful success can only be achieved if there is first a noble purpose, and second if men and women join together to make the purpose real, alive and continuous. This was true for Sherwood in 1909 & it remains today. 44 Farms extends a big “THANK YOU” to all those who have faithfully and diligently worked to make Sherwood’s vision a present-day reality.

Today, 44 Farms Angus Strong® genetics are having a profound influence on the production of beef cattle throughout the United States and the world. It has led to the robust participation in our two feeder calf programs and exciting opportunities to work with our customers from around the country to produce and acquire quality feeder cattle. With such teamwork, the 44 Farms All-Natural Angus Beef program, as well as our newest opportunity – the Prime Pursuits program with Walmart – we have the high honor of being the beef source for restaurants throughout the U.S., other food service operations, retail grocery and a consumer-direct provider through our online service at 44Farms.com.

Although the world moves faster than it did 110 years ago and change is now the norm, 44 Farms wants its customers to know that no matter what your needs may be, we can provide solutions and services that are effective, consistent, tested, profitable and friendly. We approach the future with the hope that 44 Farms will always be ahead of its time, yet in its values and service, timeless.

TOMAS CARDONA
ASSISTANT MANAGER OF CATTLE OPERATIONS

At the core of our Angus Strong program lies a deep desire and dedication to living each day as authentic stewards of the land and cattle. Our Assistant Manager of Cattle Operations, Tomas Cardona, embodies this mission in his daily work as he ensures the cattle are healthy and thriving.

Growing up right here in Cameron, Texas, Tomas' passion for ranching began at a young age working cattle and horses with his family. He joined the 44 Farms team in January of 2018 and has since played a pivotal role in the everyday management and health of our cattle. "Tomas is as hardworking as they come. He has a great eye for cattle and a passion for his work. He is committed to ensuring optimal health of our herd and it shows," said Garrett Stribling, Manager of Cattle Operations.

Tomas & his wife, Crystal have two sons – Tomas & Christian.

HOW THE BULLS ARE DEVELOPED...

The bulls at 44 Farms are managed and developed to reach a level of their genetic potential that will allow for an accurate comparison of individuals within their respective contemporary groups.

The bulls are developed in large pastures that allow for plenty of exercise and hand fed a high roughage feed. Excessive individual weights are not our goal but rather a practical average weight within contemporary groups that will allow for a fair comparison among contemporaries.

We are confident that these bulls will perform under any environmental conditions.

HOW THE BULLS ARE DEVELOPED...

The bulls at 44 Farms are managed and developed to reach a level of their genetic potential that will allow for an accurate comparison of individuals within their respective contemporary groups.

The bulls are developed in large pastures that allow for plenty of exercise and hand fed a high roughage feed. Excessive individual weights are not our goal but rather a practical average weight within contemporary groups that will allow for a fair comparison among contemporaries.

We are confident that these bulls will perform under any environmental conditions.

44 FARMS PARTNERS WITH TEXAS A&M TO SPONSOR INTERNATIONAL BEEF CATTLE ACADEMY

Cameron-based 44 Farms has provided gift funds to become the signature sponsor of the Texas A&M International Beef Academy, which debuted earlier this year.

“There is such a multi-generational connection between Texas A&M & 44 Farms. We are so excited about the strong leadership of Dr. Cliff Lamb, the Department Head of Animal Science, and the vision of Dr. Patrick Stover, Vice Chancellor and Dean of the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences,” said Bob McClaren, President of 44 Farms.

With its financial commitment, the program has been renamed the 44 Farms International Beef Academy at Texas A&M, according to program coordinators. 44 Farms is the largest registered Angus operation in Texas and the fourth largest in the U.S.

“We are extremely pleased to have Bob McClaren and 44 Farms make this contribution and commitment,” said Dr. Lamb. “44 Farms sees the value and tremendous educational opportunities by providing this international educational platform to further enhancements throughout the beef industry.”

“44 FARMS SEES THE VALUE AND TREMENDOUS EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES BY PROVIDING THIS INTERNATIONAL EDUCATIONAL PLATFORM TO FURTHER ENHANCEMENTS THROUGHOUT THE BEEF INDUSTRY.”

The international academy debuted in March and has 13 students enrolled from the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Brazil, Dominican Republic, Australia and Romania.

“We are on the second module and have received much positive feedback from students,” said Dr. Reinaldo Cooke, associate professor in the department of animal science. “The students are learning from renowned speakers not only from A&M, but also from other U.S. and international institutions. The students have indicated they are very pleased with the quality, novelty and relevance of information being presented.”

Funds from 44 Farms will allow for further program development, scholarships and promotion of the academy across the world, Cooke said.

The International Beef Academy offers exclusive, customized and advanced learning experience tailored to the educational and professional needs of each participant.

“Participants have access to emerging technologies in cattle reproduction, nutrition, genetics, health and welfare related to all phases of beef production, including cutting-edge practices for the quality and safety of beef products,” Cooke said.

The academy caps enrollment, and applications are screened for selection. All instruction is online and consists of nine modules, Cooke said.

The academy is open to beef industry professionals, producers, professors, researchers or anyone with a good basic background in global beef production, he said.

“We want to introduce the latest in cutting-edge technologies,” Cooke said. “With this academy, we want to offer the best of the best. We will be collaborating with several other national and international institutions with guest lecturers. Upon conclusion, students will come to campus here in College Station for hands-on learning opportunities and participate in the annual Texas A&M Beef Cattle Short Course before graduating.

“After graduation, they will be ambassadors of the academy where they will promote the information they’ve learned and also have the opportunity to come back in a few years and learn even more.”
